Cooper called the meeting to order at 10:12 a.m.

CHAIR REPORT

Election of Officers

Cooper noted this is something we do every 2 years. Cooper noted we need to elect a chair for the next 2-year term. Cooper opened the floor for nominations. Neatherlin nominated Cooper as chair. Cooper asked for any further nominations. There were none. Cooper noted one nomination for chair, for himself and stated he is willing to serve absent any volunteers. Cooper called for the question and it carried unanimously.

Cooper asked for nominations for vice chair. Winborn nominated Pratt for vice chair. Cooper asked if there were any further nominations. There were none. Cooper noted one nomination for vice chair, Pratt. Pratt accepted the nomination. Cooper called for the question and it carried unanimously.

Personnel Committee Update

Cooper noted the personnel committee met prior to this meeting. They presented a review to McNair and noted it was very positive. Noting McNair is a professional and fair director and leads with grace, finding the balance between public input and the need to follow the law and get the work done. McNair's budget practices are very fiscally sound and keeps the organization on a strong track, Cooper continued, and takes constructive criticism throughout the year and responds and adapts as needed. The personnel committee recommended McNair's salary remain tied to the same increase as the staff will be receiving in this budget. The committee did acknowledge her salary is bit behind her peers in the other air agencies. McNair's review will be placed in her file and her pay will tied to any increase, if any, staff may receive in the final budget. We will review her salary again in a year, if not sooner. Cooper asked if there were any questions or comments. Neatherlin stated the quality of McNair's employees reflects on her quality and she has done a great job. There was nothing further.

Finance Committee Update

Pratt reported all rent has been paid through April. Asbestos and Land Clearing permits continue to come in and staff is working closely with timelines on those projects. There was discussion regarding the fees and staff provided three options. The finance committee is recommending a 1.5% fee increase except for the per capita assessments – there will be no increase. The committee also recommends a 1.5% pay increase for staff. Cooper clarified the finance committee has had two meetings and we started by looking at a range of options from no increase in fees/pay to an increase of 2.9% in fees/pay. We landed on a hybrid of 1.5% increase in the fees ORCAA charges to their businesses and customers, 1.5% pay increase to staff, but no increase at all to assessments which is the amount the jurisdictions pay to ORCAA. Cooper noted the committee wrestled with the choices and the decision was based on the fact we really don't know what kind of impact the Covid situation will have. Cooper explained the process and asked if there were any questions or comments. There was nothing further.

PUBLIC COMMENT

There were no public comments.

CONSENT AGENDA

Cooper asked approval of the Consent Agenda. Brotherton moved approval of the Consent Agenda. The motion was seconded and carried unanimously.

DIRECTORS REPORT

Compliance Program Update

R. Moody stated source inspections have been dropped off for the moment as we don't want to expose staff or others. We are trying to be picky about what we are going to inspect. Staff is doing asbestos, demolition and outdoor burn inspections, and complaints. The biggest issue compliance is dealing with now is outdoor burning, brought on by people staying home. Some are burning and others are impacted by the smoke. Outdoor burn complaints are at an all time high. R. Moody did note we have a situation we'll be discussing with Menser soon. We are having a high volume of burn complaints that we have continued to investigate but have found no violations.

Brotherton asked if we would be putting out a message asking people not to burn. McNair explained we have already done that, and Nelson will likely cover that in his report.

Engineering Program Update

Goodin noted all the engineers have been working remotely since the crisis and they have maintained productivity and discovered some additional efficiencies with regards to coordinating our work. There has been a slight downturn in the amount of applications coming in, but there is enough work to keep us busy. Goodin stated he didn't have any cases to bring to the board, but if there were questions, he would be happy to answer. Brotherton asked what 'convert to general order' means (sand and gravel facility). Goodin explained we created a general rock crusher approval order which allows these crushers to move about our jurisdiction without having to secure approval each move. It gives the source a lot more flexibility, Goodin noted.

Air Quality Program Update

Hadley noted March was wet and rainy and not a lot of people were out. We had some issues early in the month, having a few days that were close to moderate. Overall, though, it was a good month. Mason County Saturation study numbers look good and consistent. The numbers are correlating well. Hadley stated she was able to remotely access all our monitoring sites. Hadley wanted to thank MC Fire for rebooting the datalogger since we can't access the building now. We have successfully kept all our sites operational, which is great, Hadley stated. We are not allowed up to the CPO site, but things have gone well thus far. Hadley did say she recently got permission to drive through the reservation if she doesn't stop anywhere. So, if we need to access the site, we will be able to from here on out.

There has been a delay in the Community Toxics project and the interns still have some lab work to do and the labs are currently closed. The two students have agreed to work into the summer if need be.

Education and Outreach

Nelson stated the woodstove program has slowed down, we still have a few changeouts to process, but right now it is mostly bounties. A lot of contractors have closed their shops, so we are waiting. Talking to Ecology, it may be possible to extend our grant. The money is currently secured through the end of the next fiscal year. Nelson did state he didn't believe it would be an issue for us once we are back up and running as we have several vendors that have a backlog of projects.

At the end of April, Nelson explained, we sent out our initial email and social media requesting people voluntarily refrain from burning. It has been renewed several times through email and social media. Pratt asked if the language ties the bad air quality to difficulties with those that have the corona virus. Nelson stated we have, noting any air pollution can exasperate respiratory problems.

Nelson explained we had a bit of an issue with a fire district in Mason County. They had posted a recommendation to go outside and enjoy a recreational fire in their backyard. Several people were concerned so we did talk to them, noting it was in direct conflict with what we were trying to do. They agreed to rerun the ORCAA message.

Nelson noted some of the other outreach we have been doing, to keep people involved and interactive with air issues, is by sharing links to educational materials. Parents can continue education efforts with their kids and tie it into science and air quality. We have posted lesson plans and experiments kids can do.

Finance/Administrative Update

Harding updated the Board on the new credit card transition. We continue to move forward and we should have all our new cards in, and our old account closed by end of the month.

During this month, Harding continued, we will be processing our grants with Ecology.

Harding noted our local Key Bank, where we make daily deposits, is now closed. We will have to drive to another branch (Tumwater) to make our deposits and we have received a letter of approval, from Thurston County Treasurer, deviating from our currently 24-hour deposit requirement.

We continue to stay in close communication with our tenants. We have all rents paid through April even though it is quiet on that side of the building. As for the quarter, we have collection $2.1 million in our revenues, compared to the $2.4 million budget. We are right where we should be. Harding briefly went over line items in the budget.

Brotherton asked if our renters have asked for rent forgiveness and if so, are we able to do that. Harding stated we haven't had anyone request any forgiveness, or delays at this time, however, if we do, we will work with them.

Executive Director's Report

McNair stated we have had a very busy month. Staff is doing a great job working off site and those of us in the office are practicing our social distancing. McNair noted she appreciates those staff that are here at the office, stating it would be nearly impossible to get done what needs to get done otherwise. McNair stated we have closed the doors to the public and we have been working with our customers and sources to make sure we do what we can as seamlessly as possible.

McNair is hoping to have staff back in the office in May; however, we just need to wait and see how it goes. Compliance is going out on complaints and have been very careful and maintaining distances and being safe. We have had a lot of activity in terms of enforcement. We have one appeal and another case we hope to work on mitigation with and come to an agreement.

Brotherton noted, as we go through this new work environment, we look to the future. We need to decide what is working and what is not, as the corona virus isn't going away too soon. McNair noted we have run into issues and continue to work through them. Access to our database has proved to be an issue and resulting in extra work for D.Moody. Cooper agreed it is good to do an after-action review to look back and identify issues. Related to that, Cooper continued, we may want to consider changing our By-Laws to amend the meeting in person requirements. It was noted Nick Grant has done an amazing job keeping us all working.

GOOD OF THE ORDER

There was nothing for the good of the order.

ADJOURNMENT

The meeting adjourned at 10:56 a.m.

CERTIFICATION

Outreach & Education Report

Board of Directors – May 13, 2020

While continuing to maintain Stay-at-Home / Safe-at-Home protocols, ORCAA's outreach and education efforts continue apace.

The agency's social media posts continue to draw plenty of viewers, and our website is routinely used by businesses and individuals seeking air quality news and/or permits.

ORCAA's social media channels can be found at:

<https://www.facebook.com/OlympicRegionCleanAirAgency/>
<https://twitter.com/OlyRegCleanAir>
https://www.instagram.com/orcaa\_outreach/

We've also taken advantage of the U.S. Postal Service's Every Door Direct Mail (EDDM) program to assist the ORCAA Compliance Team to address smoke concerns in specific neighborhoods. By using digital file protocols, we were able to design and submit mailers to printers, who then printed the documents, sent them to the postal office, and arranged for delivery. This ensured information was delivered to individual residences, with only the mail delivery person actually touching the flyer – this proved the safest possible way to send information during the covid-19 crisis.

Wood Smoke Reduction Grant

This program has slowed considerably. Normally March through May are prime wood stove replacement months.

As of May 1, multiple vendors have indicated plans to re-start installation programs with homeowners. We expect to see a slight uptick in program participation in May with much stronger participation numbers in June and July.

We also plan to participate in a meeting with other air agencies and state grant administrators to plan the future of the program.

The coronavirus pandemic indelibly altered our social landscape, but eventually, we will see a ramping up of our ‘normal’ activity.

Yet the new norm may not look like what we remember from even a couple months ago. For many, some of the changes we’ve adopted will be lasting. With this thought in mind, we’ve asked a host of people around our region what positive changes to their lives will they stick with, and why.

Here are some of the responses we’ve received:

Reducing Driving Trips = Reduced emissions, increased savings, and better health

“I’ve learned I really don’t need to make a dozen trips a day for various reasons. With just a little effort, I can get everything done on one trip per week – or at most, once every 3-4 days.”

“With time on my hands, I’ve started walking the three-quarters of a mile to the store instead of driving. If I have a bunch of shopping to do, my kids and I pull a wagon, and each wears a daypack we can load with groceries. We’re saving money on gas and getting exercise.”

Less burning = Reduced emissions, more leisure time, and learning opportunities for kids

“After you asked us to hold off burning, my husband signed us up for curbside pickup with the garbage company. This is SO much easier. Mike misses burning, but I don’t miss the smoke. And I don’t miss the big ugly pile of leaves and branches that sits in the backyard for months at a time until we can burn.”

“Since ORCAA said we shouldn’t burn, we had the kids start a compost pile. And since they are missing school, I had them make it a science project. They had to research the best way – and the fastest way (which may not be the best) – to make compost. They are keeping journals and measuring progress.”

Eating home-made meals saves money and is healthier

“Though this is a tough situation in general, I am loving the fact that our family is saving money and reducing food waste. Who knew it was so much cheaper to make a shrimp pasta dish than it was to buy it in a restaurant – we get four times the food for less than half the price! And we are learning to love leftovers for lunches (and sometimes breakfast!).”

“It used to be so convenient to stop and grab something from a deli for lunch, and they get take-out on the way home for dinner. Now, we cook one night and eat leftovers the next day. We’re saving a ton and eating better!”

“I am shifting the level of how I spend money for me and my daughters. After more than a month of nothing but eating at home, we are appreciating the time we spend cooking together. We are even learning new techniques from online courses. In the future, I think we’ll save up for one good meal out per month instead of a bunch of quick, cheap fast food meals out.”

Washington's Air Quality and Covid-19

Apr 15, 2020 09:52 am

Washington state's fast, pro-active response to the coronavirus pandemic has been recognized as a vital model to follow by other states. The stay-at-home orders and social distancing protocols are well known by now, but Washington is also leading in protecting public health by preserving good air quality. The Olympic Region Clean Air Agency's March 23 call to voluntarily restrict outdoor burning (see details here) has been taken up state-wide by ORCAA's fellow regional air quality agencies, as well as the state Department of Ecology and the Department of Health (DOH).

Here's what happening state-wide in regards to Air Quality Protocols under Covid-19 protective measures.

Washington's Coronavirus Information Website

The official Washington Coronavirus website notes that the Department of Ecology is strongly discouraging outdoor burning at this time. Open burning creates the risk of an escaped fire and puts pressure on emergency personnel. As Washington continues to experience the community-wide spread of COVID-19, there is a need to minimize any additional pressure on our emergency personnel both in terms of emergency response and unnecessary potential contact with people who may have COVID-19. Smoke from even a small fire can aggravate respiratory conditions and negatively impact people who are already suffering from the effects of COVID-19.

Washington Department of Ecology_(ECY)_page states:

During the COVID-19 crisis, local fire departments and first responders are doing everything they can to protect their own health so that they are ready to protect others. Many people in Washington communities are also extremely concerned about their respiratory health. So before starting an outdoor burn of any type, please consider the potential impacts on your neighbors and on local emergency responders, and postpone or cancel your burn if possible.

State grant helps homeowners replace old wood stoves

Apr 29, 2020 01:56 pm

Thanks to a grant from the state, residents of Thurston, Mason, and Clallam Counties may qualify for grants to replace old, uncertified wood stoves with cleaner home heating systems.

The Olympic Region Clean Air Agency (ORCAA) secured a Wood Smoke Reduction grant from the Washington Department of Ecology to provide wood stove replacement rebates for the more densely populated areas of Thurston, Mason, and Clallam County. One of the primary pollutants within ORCAA's jurisdiction is fine Particulate Matter (PM<sub>2.5</sub>) and the main source of that pollutant is burning. With the removal of just 60 uncertified wood stoves from the community, residents will reduce emissions by 10 tons of PM<sub>2.5</sub> per year.

The following rebate terms apply:

1. This Wood Stove Replacement Incentive is available for residents of the most densely populated regions of Clallam, Mason, and Thurston Counties. Verify address eligibility here: bit.ly/Woodstove-replacements.
2. Residents who live in qualifying locations must remove and destroy one or more of the following:

- pre-2000 certified wood stoves
- pre-2000 certified fireplace inserts
- uncertified wood stoves
- uncertified fireplace inserts

3. Residents who qualify for the above may receive rebates in the following amounts:

- $ 750 for installation of pellet stoves. **Valid only in Mason & Clallam Counties*
- $1,200 for installation of any natural gas, propane, or electric heating system
- $1,800 for installation of heat pumps, including Ductless Heat Pumps (DHP).

4. Residents who simply want to remove and destroy an old, uncertified wood appliance without installing a new gas or electric appliance may qualify for a $500 BOUNTY. For details: bit.ly/Woodstove-replacements.

To participate in the program, contact your local hearth products dealer or HVAC installer. ORCAA works with those contractors, making it easier for the consumer. Or contact ORCAA at info@orcaa.org

Furlough policy

Due to the economic impact of COVID-19 (coronavirus) or other unforeseeable events, the agency may need to implement a mandatory furlough for certain positions due to funding shortfalls. This policy provides general guidelines for identifying the impacted positions and the effect of a furlough on compensation and benefits.

Definitions

Furloughed employee – Any employee who is placed in a temporary status without duties and without pay due to a financial emergency necessitating budget reduction.

Exempt Employee- An employee who is exempt from the provisions of the Fair Labor and Standards Act (FLSA) and is not entitled to overtime payments. Exempt employees are paid on a salary basis and include administrative, executive, and professional employees and certain highly skilled computer professionals.

Nonexempt employee - An employee who is subject to the minimum wage and overtime provisions of the FLSA and is typically paid either on an hourly or salary basis.

Furlough – Any period in which a furloughed employee is placed in a temporary status without duties and without pay due to a financial emergency necessitating budget reduction.

Applicability

Furlough positions - The agency may select certain positions for a mandatory furlough, based upon the needs of the agency. Furloughs for full-time employees may be in partial or full workweek increments. Part-time employees will observe the mandatory furlough on a prorated basis according to their Full Time Equivalent (FTE) status.

Length of Furlough - The agency Executive Director retains discretion to implement furloughs for a defined period for specified positions, departments, or the entire agency. The agency may allow departments to retain flexibility in determining when employees will be furloughed. This may include implementing varying mandatory furlough schedules for an entire department or staggering furlough days for employees based upon funding and workload. Managers are responsible for establishing schedules to be documented and reported to the Executive Director.

Pay considerations

Mandatory Furlough time is unpaid and never considered as hours worked.

Overtime and compensatory time policies will continue to apply for time worked and are described in Compensation and Benefits section of this manual.

Overtime is not permitted for making up furlough hours, as this does not achieve the savings expected with the implementation of this policy.

Employees may not use paid leave in place of mandatory furlough time. Upon furlough, all scheduled paid leave is canceled (vacation, sick or other); however, sick leave being used for absences related to a Worker's Compensation injury where the employee is still unable to return to work in a modified duty position will be allowed. However, the employee may be required to observe alternate mandatory furlough time upon return to work.

In cases where a furloughed employee is required to work during mandatory furlough, time will be paid at their regular rate of pay for hours worked. They may be required to be furloughed at a later pre-determined date.

Benefit considerations

Anniversary date. An employee's anniversary date will not be changed due to mandatory furlough time.

Leave benefits. An employee's eligibility to accrue vacation and sick leave will not be affected by the implementation of mandatory furloughs. Employee will receive vacation and sick leave for the month based on their accrual rate in effect prior to the furlough.

Insurance benefits. Insurance benefits will be unaffected by the mandatory furloughs. The agency will continue to pay its portion of the premiums regardless of the furlough. Employees contributing to their insurance benefit costs will be required to submit their share to ORCAA if pay is insufficient to allow for deduction.

Recordkeeping and payroll considerations

Mandatory furlough time is to be recorded as Unpaid Leave in the timesheet database.

All employees, including exempt employees, who are furloughed are strictly prohibited from working during a mandatory furlough. All email, phone calls, messages and mail will be forwarded to the furloughed employee's supervisor.

Exempt employees placed on mandatory furlough will be converted to non-exempt during the furlough period. Such employees will be required to track their hours consistent with the requirements of non-exempt employees. During the period when exempt employees are converted to non-exempt, they must comply with all recording keeping and wage and hour rules applicable to non-exempt employee (e.g., rest periods and meal periods, leave requests, pre-approval for overtime).
